We'll Make You Forget the High Cost of Clothing at The DIXIE of Course

"Dixie's Cash Policy" is the sensible way to buy your clothes and furnishings.

By doing a "strictly cash business" we are enabled to give you the fullest returns in value for every dollar expended. Our clothes are marked to sell at a fair margin of profit—no more.

A visit to The Dixie will better acquaint you with what we mean when we say that "cash has increased purchasing power."

marks of German paper money is held abroad and that about 25,000,000,000 re-abroad and that about 25,000,000,000 remains in Germany. According to the German industry, according to the bank, has been held in check by thorevolution, political imprest, strikes and unwillingness to work. Many firms and industries are said to have been able to keep going only by using their reserve funds.

The unfavorable status of the mark in the world exchanges is attributed tothe flood of German money that has gone abroad to pay for imports estimated at 1,000,000,000 marks since the revolution. At present the bank sees under twenty, particularly, would show fine judgment to enlist for a number of years.

While earning a good living he has plenty of time and a rare opportunity to learn a well-paying trade.

Bowers' No. 42 is unusually well located, out at Poplar and Cleveland. It is a trim looking place. Much of this appearance must be due to the spick and span methods of its sailor manager. Much of it is due to a newly developed plan of the Bowers Stores that moves the counter farther back and increases the side shelving, while lengthening the counters toward the front.

This gives greater space to accommodate the patrons and multiplies the amount of stock on display. Patrons are enabled to easily look over a large array of merchandise. Salesmen are near at hand to explain the character and varieties of the various articles.

Lloyd Moore has a pleasing personality and an alert manner. He seems happy to be back after two years' absence, and certainly must bring new enthusiasm and enlarged vision.

He has great ambitions for No. 42. If he keeps up his present speed, his hopes are not unreasonable.

This new hat is of light-weight leather that folds and gathers in the most graceful lines. It comes in all shades from blues and grave to browns and greens. And by the variety of shapes and sizes shown in the shop windows, everyone may be heaveningly spited. the shop windows, everyone may be be minely anited.

The surmisine thing is that these half are not made in for spot or approach for rain, but really and honestly as dress hats. They have very few trimmings, the most popular being designs in steel bends which sometimes cover the whole crown.

In former years the material and style of the draws half, here during the rainy season were not very much unlike the styles in other parts of the world. And the rain half—well all women heditated to were them, and many absolutely refused, they were so dreadfully unbecoming. Umbrellas were traditionally the thing and the war had not yet made the combination of raincoat and rain had combination of raincoat and rain had remained the combination of raincoat and rain had notice. Everyone is so satisfied with them they can hardly be kept in stock.
